INSTRUCTIONS FOR AUTHORS

“Healthline” is a biannual national journal of Indian Association of Preventive and Social Medicine. “Healthline” aims to promote quality research in the field of Community Medicine and Public health. The editorial board of the journal is committed to an unbiased, independent, anonymous and confidential review of submitted articles. Manuscripts submitted to this Journal, should not have been published or under consideration for publication in any substantial form in any other publication, professional or lay. All the manuscripts once submitted to and published in the Healthline will become the property of the journal.

Process for submission:

Authors are requested to strictly follow the guidelines provided herewith, while preparing the manuscripts for submission to the “Healthline” journal.

Peer Review Process:

The “Healthline” journal follows double blind peer review process. Following receipt of a manuscript from the authors, the manuscript undergoes an editorial review (by editor in chief/executive editor/joint editor). If the manuscript is found appropriate for the further process following the editorial review, the blind manuscript is sent to two anonymous peer reviewers and one statistical reviewer. It is ensured that the reviewers are having qualifications of post-graduation or higher in the concerned subjects and not from the same institute where the authors belong. Upon completion of peer review, the changes suggested by the reviewers are forwarded to the authors and modifications are sought with explanations (if required). The revised manuscript is again forwarded to the concerned reviewers. If the reviewers are satisfied with the revisions from the authors, the manuscript is accepted and formative changes are done for the publication. At any stage of review, if editorial board members or reviewers find the manuscript unsuitable for the publication, the manuscript is rejected.

General Instructions:

The manuscript can be submitted through email to editorhealthline@gmail.com. The email should contain soft copies of authorship and copyright form (duly signed by all the authors), title page and original manuscript in separate documents. Authors are requested to prepare the article typed in “Times New Roman” fonts with size of “12”. Double spacing (including references), should be followed with wide margins. There is no need to send a hard copy.

Articles not containing life membership number of first or second author in the title page will be charged publication fees according to criteria for non member authors. Briefly mention contribution of each author in multi author article.

Abstract:

Abstract should be a structured condensation of the work not exceeding 250 words for original research articles and 150 words for short articles. It should be structured under the following headings: background, objectives, methods, results, conclusions, and 3- 5 keywords to index the subject matter of the article. Please do not make any other heading.

Manuscript:

It must be concise and should include title, introduction, material and methods, result, discussion, conclusion, recommendations and references. The manuscript should not contain names or any other information related to authors. The matter must be written in a manner, which is easy to understand, and should be restricted to the topic being presented. Each Table and Figure should be on separate page and should be given at the end of the manuscript. Please do not insert tables etc. within the text. These should be placed as the last element of the text before references. Written permissions of persons/agency acknowledged should be provided, if applicable.

Conflict of interest and financial support:

The situations where conflict of interest arises are when an author (or the author's institution), reviewer, or editor has financial or personal relationships that inappropriately influence (bias) his or her actions (such relationships are also known as dual commitments, competing interests, or competing loyalties). The potential of influences can vary from the insignificant ones to the significant ones where the results of the reviews or publication process. The conflict of interest can also occur if an individual believes that the relationship affects his or her scientific judgment. Financial relationships (such as employment, consultancies, stock ownership, honoraria, paid expert testimony) are also one of the identifiable conflicts of interest and the most likely to undermine the credibility of the journal, the authors, and of science itself. The other potential conflicts can occur for other reasons, such as academic rivalry, personal relationships and intellectual desire. 2006) A brief statement on source of funding and conflict of interest should be included in the manuscript.

Published Statement of Informed Consent:

The involvement of study participants should be voluntary and following informed consent. Any details disclosing identification of the patients (names, record numbers, contact details, photographs and pedigree) must not be included in the published article. In case, such information is necessary for scientific reasons, an informed consent must be obtained from the study participants or parents/guardian (in case of children less than 18 years of age). Informed consent for this purpose requires that a patient who is identifiable be shown the manuscript to be published. Authors should identify individuals who provide writing assistance and disclose the funding source for this assistance. Identifying details should be omitted if they are not essential. Complete anonymity is difficult to achieve, however, and informed consent should be obtained if there is any doubt. If identifying characteristics are altered to protect anonymity, authors should provide assurance that alterations do not distort scientific meaning and editors should so note. When informed consent has been obtained it should be indicated in the published article.
